The Decision Rendered

and fully attested by the crowds that throng our store morning, noon and night. The people of Washington know a good thing when they see it and are quick to embrace the proper opportunities.

The combine of high-profit cash jewelers are talking of boycotting us. Why? Because we sell 20 per cent less than they are satisfied to sell for.

It's logical—reasonable—take our hint and save your money. As we've repeatedly told you—what's the use of paying $50 cash for identically the same article as we will sell you for $40 on Credit—and that on easy weekly or monthly payments.

Why this store is always crowded is plain. We cater to the masses. The poor man and the rich one receive the same courteous treatment—no matter how small or large the purchase may be—$1.00 or $1,000. Again we say—get all their prices—leave us till last—and let us save you money. We can surely prove that to you when you compare others' prices with ours.

NILES DESCRIBES A NEW LIE.

Says Baker Told "a Precarious Elected-Candidate" One.

"I pronounce the statement of the attorney for the Government a precarious elected-candidate lie," was the astounding exclamation made by Lawyer Edward G. Niles, in a tilt with attorney Baker in the police court today.

The case of Daniel R. Smith, charged with grand larceny of a couple, valued at $125, and a set of harness valued at $25, from Mr. Niles White, of Hyattsville, was on trial before Judge Kimball. The evidence was conflicting and puzzling, both persons claiming an interest in the conveyance.

Judge Kimball, after winnowing the chaff, thought Mrs. White was the rightful owner of the property, and that Mr. Smith, who also claimed a part interest in it, was possessed of a mistaken idea regarding his right.

This morning Mr. Niles appeared before Judge Kimball, and addressed him substantially as follows: "May it please the court, I find that I am unable to have my client turn the couple over to Mrs. White, as agreed upon, as it is not in his possession."

Mr. Baker arose and said: "I must admire the manner in which the counsel for the defendant has acted in the case. According to the request of the court, it was agreed that Mr. Niles' client should return the couple, and now I have been informed that he did not even attempt to do so. I have been told by Mr. White that she overheard a conversation between Mr. Niles and Mr. Smith, in the former's office yesterday, during which Smith made a proposition whereby the couple would be returned so that he could turn it over by paying a sum of 40 cents."

Mr. Niles denied all knowledge of the words, and made the astounding accusation quoted. Mr. Baker explained the source of his information, and said that he thought the defendant had kept and faith with the court, and that the action of Mr. Niles was certainly not to be commended.

Judge Kimball interposed, and prevented a further war of words between the opposing counsel, saying that he was surprised at the course things had taken, and at the way in which the defendant acted. He brought the matter to a close by declaring the case worthy of the action of the grand jury, and ordered Smith held in the sum of $500 bonds.

JURY SURPRISED THE JUDGE

Failure to Agree in the Barron Case Considered Remarkable.

The Court Evidently Was of the Opinion That a Verdict of Guilty Was Right.

The jury before which Thomas E. Barron, a saloonkeeper, was yesterday tried in the police court on a charge of giving liquor to minors, after being out all night failed to agree, and was discharged this morning.

The jury was charged by Judge Kimball at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and, failing to agree by dusk, was locked in the jury room for the night. The case was discussed and argued during the night, and a verdict of guilty was almost reached, but the persistence of two of the jurors prevented a verdict being reached.

Judge Kimball recharged the jurors at 9:15 o'clock this morning, summarizing the evidence and telling the jurors that the only thing for them to consider was whether the bartender gave the boys the liquor.

The saloon of Barron is on M street northwest. While patrolling his beat some time ago Policeman Gov. saw two boys, about seventeen years of age, enter Barron's place. He watched them from a commanding position on the outside after they had gone within and saw them drinking. He immediately entered the place and confronted the youths. They admitted that they were minors and the bartender said he gave them drinks.

In court the boys made a similar statement, and three witnesses testified that they saw the liquor handed to them. The bartender, Thomas Flynn, admitted on the stand that he handed the boys drinks, but pleaded ignorance of the fact that they were minors, as he was busy and in a hurry at the time mentioned in the information.

In recharging the jurors, Judge Kimball again impressed upon them his first charge, that they were to consider nothing but the actual facts brought out by the evidence.

The jury, after being locked up for an additional half an hour, failed to agree. When brought into the courtroom, Judge Kimball said: "Gentlemen, this is the most extraordinary case that has ever come before my observation, that twelve men, upon the evidence given here yesterday, cannot come out of the jury room with a verdict. There was no contradiction to the fact that the liquor was sold the boys. Some juror has not considered the charge of the court and has decided upon his own responsibility."

The jury was discharged. On it were, Messrs. W. S. Anderson, foreman; James Hall, John W. Keene, James O. Hogan, Jr., James H. Stevenson, George W. Burgess, John M. Jacoby, John V. Velt, Jr., Maurice Pierre, W. B. Kenley, John A. Gray, Jr., and John Tyler.

German Emperor Off for Kiel, Berlin, Dec. 15.—The Emperor, accompanied by his third son, Prince Adolf, started for Kiel, via Hamburg, at 7 o'clock this morning to bid farewell to his brother, Prince Henry of Prussia, who is about to sail for Kiau Chon Bay in command of the additional squadron of German warships assigned to Chinese waters.
